

Railway & London Underground

If you require further information please contact Jill Lynch who will be more than happy to assist

The nearest mainline station is Elstree & Borehamwood on the Thameslink Line, connecting with Kings Cross Thameslink station

The journey from Kings Cross takes about 20 minutes (trains run every 15 minutes during the business day with fast trains at peak)

The number 107 bus service runs direct to Centennial Park from the station every 15 minutes throughout the working day

Taxis are also available from the station. Journey times are approx 5 minutes off-peak but may be 20 minutes in rush-hour traffic

The nearest tube is Stanmore at the end of the Jubilee Line, connecting with Finchley Road, Baker Street, Waterloo and London Bridge underground stations and running into London Docklands

Also not far away is Edgware, at the end of the western extension of the Northern Line, which connects to Euston

Taxis are usually available at both stations

Allow about 40 minutes for travel from Central London, plus another 5-8 minutes for the taxi journey

Alternatively call our office team on 020 8736 5888 for additional journey directions